Result of Investigation:

There is an old disposal site at the location. It was probably an old caliche pit that was filled with trash. The water line will be brought in from another direction and the waste problem was referred to Tom Green County.

02/07/97 - 10:45 am -

The trench on the East side of Runion road appears to have been dug through old trash. Runion Road appears to be on top of old trash also.

The occupants in the trailer on the diagram are in the process of building something on the construction pad. We probably need to, at least, notify these companies that it wouldn't be in their best interest to construct a building at this location, be it commercial or residence.

This might be another one of these Tom Green County referrals that goes to Mike Loving.

The trench is being dug by a commercial trencher operated by Rhode Construction. The trench is about 1-2' deep and the pipe is a 4" or 6" water line.

4:00 p.m.

Red Weddell and I met with Mac Baker, Tom Green County Municipal Waste Supervisor, at the site and discussed the problem. Mac Baker was going to discuss the issue with Jodie Weeks, the County Commissioner in this area. They will in turn discuss it with County Judge, Michael Browne. This development went in prior to any waste regulations, but it appears that the developer or the County would have known about the illegal site. Runion Road at this intersection was probably built on top of the waste.
